

SS Pay Ups Personal Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income jumped a record $17.8 billion during April, but the increase was entirely the result of higher Social Security payments; and the 6 per cent federal pay raise, the Commerce Department reported today.

Income rose to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $801.1 billion, up from $783.3 billion in March. The rate for the first four months of this year was $784.2 billion, compared to $727.1 billion for January through April, 1969.

Without the one-time government payments, the department said, this key indicator of the nation's economic condition would have fallen.

Both the government pay raise and the Social Security increase included some retroactive payment.

Private sector wages and salaries fell $1.5 billion. Corporate dividends, however, rose slightly to $25.3 billion from $25.2 billion in March and in February.

Personal income includes wages, earnings of farmers and self-employed businessmen, rental income, dividend payments and Social Security, minus workers' Social Security tax payments.

The April increase was the largest since income rose $15.4 billion in September 1965. The next month, October, it fell by almost $4 billion, however. That was the most recent decline.

Showers Are Predicted for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thundershowers are predicted to follow close on the heels of the sunny warm weather of the past week.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says the showers will move into Arkansas from Texas this afternoon and evening, spreading across the state.

Temperatures will remain warm tonight, before cooler air spreads slowly southeastward across the state Friday and Saturday.

This morning's fair weather was the result of a warm, high pressure ridge extending from the lower Atlantic Coast westward to Eastern Texas.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 87 at Jonesboro and Fort Smith to 81 at Harrison.

Camden Plant Closing Down

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)— Plant officials said Wednesday the Camden Manufacturing Co., which employs 250 persons, will close about May 30 because of lack of defense contracts.

The Camden plant began operations in November 1966 and at one time employed more than 1,000 persons.

Saratoga High Honor Graduates

Honor graduates have been announced at Saratoga School. Co-viceprincipals for 1970 will be Sandra Kay Lively, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.F. (Bill) Lively of Columbus, and Janice Kay McJunkins, daughter of Mrs.

SANDRA LIVELY

JANICE MCJUNKINS

DONNA MCCORKLE

Fred McJunkins and the late Fred McJunkins of Saratoga. Salutatorian will be Donna Beth McCorkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCorkle of Columbus.

All three students have made the honor roll throughout high school, and have been offered scholarships from colleges throughout the state.

Janice and Sandra have both received the annual Scholarship Achievement Awards. Janice received it her Freshman and Junior year, and Sandra received it her Sophomore year.

All three students are class leaders and have taken part in church activities. They were all members of the Saratoga Glee Club, members of the Junior and Senior play casts, and 4-year lettermen in basketball. Janice was vice-president of the sophomore class, and Sandra was secretary of the sophomore class. Donna was president of the sophomore class and secretary of the senior class.

Janice has been accepted at Harding College and plans to major in psychology.

Sandra has accepted a scholarship from Henderson State College, where she plans to attend this fall and major in Secretarial Science.

Donna plans to attend Atlantic Airline Training School in Kansas City where she will deal in computer operating and data processing.

Baccalaureate services will be held at 8:00 o'clock, May 17, and Commencement exercises will be at 8:00 o'clock, May 22, 1970.

Public Obscenity Brings a Fine

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Ernest Phacker, 22, of Black Oak, a student at Arkansas State University, was fined $100 and given a 10-day suspended jail sentence Wednesday for public obscenity.

The charge was filed after Phacker was arrested on campus May 5 wearing a sweatshirt on which two words had been printed in ballpoint pen.

closed. The White House announced that President Nixon's daughter Julie and her husband, David Eisenhower, have decided not to attend their graduation exercises at Smith and Amherst colleges. Antiwar protests have been going on at both schools.

President and Mrs. Nixon had indicated they wanted to attend Julie's graduation from Smith, scheduled May 29.

The two young people decided not to return to their campuses at all. A spokesman said both have good enough grades to receive diplomas without further exams.

Police in Blacksburg, Va., used dogs to help in evicting about 100 war protesters from a building they had occupied overnight on the campus of 9,500-student Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Later, 200 state troopers formed a ring around the home of the institute's president, Dr. T. Marshall Hahn Jr., to hold off a crowd of 1,250 students who demanded amnesty for those arrested.

In Ypsilanti, Mich., students from 14,500-student Eastern Michigan University broke glass and furniture on campus despite a state of emergency declared by Gov. William Milliken Tuesday after two nights of violent demonstrations.

There were 15 to 20 arrests. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie ordered 1,100 Illinois National Guardsmen into Carbondale because of continued turmoil at the 26,000-student Southern Illinois University.

Two Arkansans in Five Arrested

WESTFIELD, N.Y. (AP) — Five persons, including two Little Rock residents, were arrested Tuesday when a New York policeman stopped to assist a motorist in distress and found the car loaded with stolen radios and stereo equipment.

Arrested was the driver, Charles Linden, 20, of Detroit, and four occupants, William Jakubee and Jerry Beemer, both 17 of Ransomville, N.Y., and Jana Huffaker, 18, and Karen Cottery, 17, both of Little Rock, Ark.

MIGs Shot Down by Israeli

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Two Egyptian MIG21s were shot down today as they attempted to intercept Israeli war planes attacking military targets along the Suez Canal, the military command said.

On the ground, Arab guerrillas in Lebanon fired rockets at two Israeli settlements, defying Israel's massive anti-guerrilla sweep through southeast Lebanon that ended only 12 hours earlier, Israeli sources said.

A third Egyptian plane was hit in the air battle over the canal, but was not seen going down, a spokesman said.

The Soviet-made MIG21s attempted to interfere with Israeli planes raiding objectives on the central sector of the canal, he said.

One MIG exploded in the air. One pilot of another was seen bailing out. Both planes crashed in Egyptian territory, while the Israeli aircraft returned safely, the spokesman said.

The dogfights brought to 93 the number of Egyptian planes Israel claims to have downed since the 1967 war.

The Czech-made Katyusha rockets, fired shortly before dawn, caused no damage or casualties to the two settlements—Kfar Blum and Ramot Naftal, the sources said.

Both are close to the Lebanese border near Kiryat Shmona, where three persons were killed and nine wounded in a rocket attack that prompted Israel's raid into Lebanon Tuesday.

Only a few hours before the latest attack, Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Alon warned Beirut to expect "further and widespread Israeli military attacks" unless it stamped out guerrilla activity from its territory.

Israeli leaders said the 32-hour raid achieved all its objectives. The military said 30 guerrillas were killed and 15 taken prisoner. Large amounts of arms were destroyed or brought back as booty.

The sweep covered a 17-square-mile area that Israel said was under guerrilla domination. It was the biggest Israeli action ever against Lebanon.

Israeli newspapers were not overly enthusiastic about the action.

"One remains with the impression that despite the abundant booty and widespread destruction, the area will still not be as calm as it might have been had we not lost the element of surprise," said the Daily Haaretz.

"The ball is now back with the Lebanese government, which must draw the correct conclusions from the Israeli army's warning," said the semi-official Lamerhav.

But Lamerhav added that there might be an opposite result if the Lebanese government took the U.N. Security Council's condemnation of the raid as endorsement of its policies toward the guerrillas.

Israeli artillery shelled two villages in South Lebanon today and killed four civilians, a Lebanese military spokesman said in Beirut.

The spokesman said the firing on the villages of Houla and Bli-d lasted half an hour.

The dead in Houla were three women and one girl, the spokesman said. He added that many houses in both villages were destroyed.

Lebanese artillery returned the fire, he reported.

Ford Not to Build Plant for Russia

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II told a meeting of Ford stockholders today that he has notified the Russian government that "it is not feasible for us to give further consideration to a Soviet proposal" that Ford build a truck plant in Russia.

Ford, recently returned from a nine-day visit to Russia where he discussed the Russian leaders' proposal with them, said the U.S. government "was advised in advance of our visit and did not discourage us."

The chairman of the Ford Motor Co. reacted strongly last week to what he considered criticism of the proposed Russian-Ford truck venture by Defense Secretary Melvin Laird.

Laird said in an interview, "Some people believe the best way to succeed with the Soviet Union, for example, is to go to Russia and build trucks for them."

Ford said his firm's competitive position in worldwide markets remained strong despite inflation. He said the firm will introduce two new cars this fall.

Indians Get Paid for Their Florida Land

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The federal government, which finagled the Seminole Indians out of a big chunk of Florida 150 years ago, has finally offered to pay them $12.3 million for it.

"They're trying to steal it again," was the indignant reaction of Joe Dan Osceola, chairman of the United Southeastern Tribes, when informed of the offer by the Indian Claims Commission Wednesday.

Osceola, namesake and descendant of a famous Seminole war chief, said the proposed settlement probably would be appealed to the U.S. Court of Claims.

"We were willing to settle with the government if they'd pay enough," Osceola said. "But after 20 years in court, after 100 years of depriving us of the land, now they offer us peanuts."

The Seminoles lost the land in the early 1800's when Gen. Andrew Jackson marched into Florida to punish the Indians for providing escaped slaves with sanctuary in the swamps.

The treaties of 1823 and 1832 after the Seminole wars left the Indians without any of their real estate which once embraced about 30 million acres.

The Seminoles filed suit 20 years ago, demanding the federal government pay them $47 million for the land, figured at $1.25 per acre, the average price when the land was taken.

The U.S. Court of Claims in Washington ruled in June 1967 that the government owed the Seminoles for the acreage.

The government originally wanted to pay only 20 cents an acre. The proposed settlement by the Indian Claims Commission was based on 43 cents an acre.

The Seminoles wouldn't receive the full $12.3 million. The government would deduct from it money spent on the Indians or given them as a result of treaties, a figure estimated at $5 million.

Said Osceola: "If the people in Washington could only visit the reservations they're dealing with, they would not be so stingy."

"People think we receive a monthly check from either the state or the federal government. It's not so. We just make it by the skin of our teeth."

Stock Market Prices Still Going Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued on their downward course in moderately active trading today.

The Dow Jones average by 10:30 a.m., one half hour after the opening bell, had dropped 4.89 to 688.95. Declining issues led advances by a 2-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

On Wednesday, prices skidded to a new seven-year low as the Dow average fell below the 700 mark.

munications difficulty with Nixon or his top aides.

One of them came from a source close to the GOP leadership. "We aren't getting through to the White House," this source said. "We have the same problem as Hickel."

That was a reference to the complaint of Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel that he had trouble getting to Nixon with his suggestion that the administration demonstrate more concern about American youth.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott brings to the floor each day a report supplied by the White House on casualties, supplies and weapons captured in Cambodian operations. But his other lines to the White House appear to have been crossed at least twice in the past two days.

Scott said at one point the administration favored his amendment to legislation to stop funds for Cambodian operations—the amendment in effect permitting a waiver of the cutoff if necessary for the defense of American troops.

The White House denied it, and Scott later acknowledged he did not have the backing of the administration he represents on the Senate floor.

Later Scott promoted a news conference for the leaders of two veterans organizations, who hotly denounced the appropriations cutoff.

Club Owners, Players Plan Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — John Gaherin, attorney for the major league club owners, says his group is expected to meet with the Major League Baseball Players Association before the end of this week in an effort to resolve contract disagreements. Gaherin spoke up after Marvin Miller, director of the Players Association, announced Wednesday that the players had overwhelmingly voted to reject a proposed three-year contract. At the same time, Miller said his group has asked for a meeting with the club owners to resolve differences of the general contract which had expired May 5 after being extended from Dec. 31.

Miller said all of the 24 major league teams, except the Philadelphia Phillies, voted against the owners' proposal by a 705-89 margin.

He said 99 per cent of the players voted in the secret ballot and 85 per cent of them voted not to accept. Six clubs reported no players voting to accept and 15 of the 24 reported three or less votes in favor.

Miller pointed out that the big differences were the 162-game schedule, which the players want shortened, disagreement about the players share of the playoff gate and dissatisfaction with termination pay.

Miller's statement made no mention of a one-day baseball moratorium on a Saturday when the Game of the Week is nationally televised, as some player representatives have hinted.

The owners have proposed giving a released player pay for 45 days instead of 30, if out during the season, but no pay for players dropped during training camp. The players group feels veteran, established players, who sign during the winter and then are dropped in spring training, are not getting a fair deal.

The major leagues have scheduled a joint meeting Friday to discuss the contract and "several matters of general interest."

Tito Drives in All Runs for Giants

SAN DIEGO AP — Tito Fuentes drove in all the runs with a triple and homer in support of Rich Robertson's three-hit pitching Wednesday night as the San Francisco Giants defeated San Diego 5-1.

Robertson, 3-2, who gained his third straight victory, lost a shutout when he let in a run on a second-inning wild pitch. It followed a double by Ivan Murrell and an infield out.

The Giants scored all their runs off left-hander Danny Coombs. A walk to Dick Dietz and a single by Frank Johnson set up a two-run triple by Fuentes in the fifth inning as the Giants went ahead to stay.

Fuentes hit a three-run homer in the seventh after Dietz and Johnson reached on errors. It was Fuentes' second homer of the season.

Orioles Lose Wits Battle With Rigney

By DICK JOYCE

Associated Press Sports Writer
Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver lost his latest battle of wits with Minnesota's Bill Rigney, and now he's kicking himself.

"What I should have done was challenge" (Harmon) Killebrew," moaned Weaver after the Twins edged his Orioles 5-4 in 10 innings Wednesday night. "If he hits a home run, it's the same as a double." Killebrew had hit a two-run homer, No. 10 this year, in the first inning.

What Weaver did was to have right-handed relief ace Eddie Watt intentionally walk Killebrew after Tony Oliva had doubled with two out in the 10th. This put up the Twins' Rich Reese, a lefty swinger, against Watt. Reese promptly doubled bringing home Oliva with the winning run that snapped Baltimore's eight-game winning streak.

In other American League games, California topped Boston 5-3, Oakland ripped Washington, 8-1, Kansas City nipped Cleveland 1-0 in 12 innings and Milwaukee downed New York 3-1. Chicago at Detroit, rain.

In the National League, Montreal edged Philadelphia 7-6, New York blanked Chicago 4-0, Pittsburgh tripped St. Louis 5-1, San Francisco belted San Diego 5-1 and Houston beat Los Angeles 6-5.

Reese, who batted .322 for the Twins last year, entered the Baltimore game with a .219 batting average. He said: "I made up my mind I was going to take three good rips and I did. Sure, I was down, but I didn't give up. That hit means a lot to me. I'm too good a hitter to be hitting what I am."

Weaver's wheeling and dealing had paid off with a victory Tuesday night while Rigney's strategy backfired. Minnesota now holds a season lead of 3-2 in the meetings between last year's division leaders.

Baltimore maintained its six-game lead in the AL East while Minnesota remained one game behind California in the West.

California won its seventh in its last eight starts against Boston when reliever Sparky Lyle walked home Jim Spencer in the eighth for what proved to be the winning run. Tony Conigliaro hit two homers, his second tying the game 3-3 in the top of the eighth.

Don Mincher drove home three runs and Sal Bando and Rick Monday two each as Oakland handed Washington its seventh consecutive loss. John "Blue Moon" Odum allowed three Senators' hits in six innings, but walked seven and Rollie Fingers finished up.

Joe Keough, who had made a game-saving catch in the eighth, scored the winning run in the 12th on pinch-hitter Hawk Taylor's two-out double off reliever Phil Hennigan. Keough had walked and was sacrificed to second.

Bill Butler held Cleveland to three hits in 10 innings before giving way to winner Alan Fitzmorris.

Ted Savage belted a three-run two-out homer and left-hander John Morris pitched a three-hitter as Milwaukee stopped the Yankees. Morris spaced singles in the first and eighth and lost his shutout bid when Roy White homered in the ninth with two out.

In other Texas League action Albuquerque defeated Dallas-Fort Worth 4-2 and Amarillo edged El Paso 4-2.

Grand Slam Downfall of Cardinals

By HERSCHEL NIKENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
The difference between 1-for-27 and 1-for-29 is four . . . runs, that is.

The Chicago Cubs went 1-for-27 Wednesday—Ernie Banks' two-out single in the eighth inning their only hit—and came out on the short end of a 4-0 score to the New York Mets.

Pittsburgh's Al Oliver is 1-for-29, but that hit was a grand slam homer that powered the Pirates past the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Gibson 5-1.

In other National League action, Tito Fuentes drove in all the San Francisco runs with a triple and home run as the Giants whipped San Diego 5-1; Rusty Staub's single, double and homer lifted Montreal by Philadelphia 7-6 and Houston held off Los Angeles 6-5. Atlanta and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

American League scores were Minnesota 5, Baltimore 4 in 10 innings; Kansas City 1, Cleveland 0 in 12; Milwaukee 3, the New York Yankees 1; California 5, Boston 3 and Oakland 8, Washington 1. The Chicago White Sox and Detroit were rained out.

Fireballing right-hander Gary Gentry was within four outs on the Mets' first-ever no-hitter when Banks, who hit his 500th career home run a day earlier, became the spoiler. His line drive eluded left fielder Dave Marshall, who tried to make a shoestring catch but had the ball kick off his glove.

"There's no question but that it was a hit," said the 23-year-old Gentry. "I wanted to throw him a low inside fast ball hoping he would pop it up against that wind that was coming in. But I didn't get it where I wanted. It wasn't a cheap hit and I'm glad of that."

The only other Cubs to reach base were Ron Santo, who walked in the fifth, and Willie Smith, who was hit by a pitch in the ninth. Gentry fanned seven as the Mets took the first 1970 meeting between last year's bitter rivals.

Art Shamsky homered and Wayne Garrett doubled and tripled to pace the Mets' six-hit offense against Bill Hands, who struck out 12.

Oliver hit his tie-breaking grand slam in the sixth inning following singles by Matty Alou and Roberto Clemente and an intentional walk to Willie Stargell.

"I'm not what you call cocky or anything," said Oliver, "but I think I can hit any pitch that's in the strike zone. I've just had no luck at all. I've been hitting hard enough to be at .400. It's been disappointing because since opening day I've hit the ball hard at least once every game."

Fuentes put the Giants ahead for good in the fifth inning with a triple off San Diego's Danny Coombs following a walk to Dick Dietz and Frank Johnson's single. He homered in the seventh after Dietz and Johnson reached on errors.

Rich Robertson held the Padres to three hits and lost his shutout on a second-inning wild pitch.

Staub drove in four runs as Montreal sent the Phillies to their seventh straight setback, despite two homers and five RBI by Don Money. Staub doubled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth and Ron Fairly followed with a decisive two-run double.

Houston, which hadn't beaten Claude Osteen since 1968, snapped a string of seven straight losses to the Dodgers lefty.

PITCHING—Gary Gentry, Mets, checked the Chicago Cubs on one hit—Ernie Banks' two-out single in the eighth—as the Mets won 4-0.

Gale Sayers to Get the Halas Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears will receive the George Halas award as the "Most Courageous Player" of the National Football League at the annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Pro Football Writers May 25.

Sayers missed the last five games in 1968 due to knee surgery but came back strong with 1,032 yards and won the rushing title in 1969.

Also to be saluted at the dinner is Milt Woodard, retiring president of the American Football League.

Trav Fielder Has to Have a Good Year

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — No one has to draw any pictures for Charlie Stewart.

"I have to have a good year," he said.

The Arkansas Traveler left-fielder means he has to produce or give up on his chances of making the major leagues.

At 25, Stewart is almost elderly in Class AA baseball. "He needs to get the best year he can possibly get to still be a top prospect," said Arkansas manager Kenny Boyer.

"There's no doubt about his potential. When you've got speed, you can do a lot of things both offensively and defensively."

Stewart has speed. He signed with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1966 and went to St. Petersburg in the Florida State League where he stole 30 bases in half a season. He was with the same club in 1967, stealing 81 bases and leading the league in hitting with a .296 average.

The Army took the next two years out of his life. "I won't say I'm not bitter, but there's nothing that can be done about it," Stewart said. "I didn't see a baseball for two years and my reflexes are a little slower than they were."

In the last seven games, Stewart has stolen five bases and scored eight runs. He scored twice in one night on shallow fly balls and Tuesday night went from first to third while the batter was being thrown out at first.

"Usually, on a ground ball to deep short I've got a chance to beat it out," Stewart said. "If the second baseman has to take three or four steps, I've got a chance. They know I can run and they are liable to do something they wouldn't normally do."

Stewart pings the ball in all directions and will punt for a base hit given the opportunity. His next home run will be his first.

In the last 7 games, he's had 17 hits and raised his average to .333.

"As far as I'm concerned personally, I haven't set any goals," Stewart said. "I would like to hit .300, steal between 35 and 50 bases and score maybe 90 to 100 runs."

"The last week or 10 days he's been outstanding," Boyer said. "When you've got speed, you can be an everyday player in the big leagues or at least go up there and help somebody. You look at his speed and know you've got to keep a guy like that."

"He's deceptive because of his long strides," Boyer said. "He don't churn them legs like some of those other guys but you know he's flying when you put a clock on him."

Stewart has stolen 12 bases in 14 attempts this season. "Besides having speed and getting a good jump, he has a knack of knowing how to slide," Boyer said. "I heard Maury

Gibby Still Can't Believe He Really Won

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—It's been a hectic life for Gibby Gilbert since he came from nowhere and won the Houston Champions International Golf tournament in a playoff with Bruce Crampton.

"I haven't been able to sleep," the haggard, 29-year-old Gilbert said today before his first round in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitational, "my wife almost had a baby and my sister almost went into shock."

Gilbert, a club pro at Hollywood, Fla., had been on the tour—this time—only for a couple of months when he scored his first victory and picked up the $23,000 first place check at Houston Sunday.

"I still can't really believe it," he said. "I haven't quite come back to earth yet, haven't settled down."

"I can't sleep," said the dark, drawing young man. "I keep replaying every shot in my mind. I could understand why I'd do that if I'd lost, but I won. So why do I keep going over it in my mind? I just don't know."

Gilbert, who made a couple of brief, unsuccessful appearances on the tour in earlier years, said he "won about $10,000 in some little tournaments in Florida last winter, was playing pretty well and decided I'd give the tour another try." He started at Doral the last week in February, finished in the top 10 and has picked up $34,143 since then.

Most of it, of course, was at Houston, when he made up two strokes on the 72nd hole to gain a tie.

The attention had been focused on the stretch duel between Crampton and Bert Greene, with Gilbert a shadowy figure somewhere off the pace in third place. Greene double bogeyed the 17th and fell out of first, with Crampton taking over.

Gilbert went on to beat Crampton with a par on the third extra hole, then hurried home to Florida where his wife is expecting a baby early next month.

"She said she almost had the baby when I won," he said.

Gilbert again was an obscure figure in the prestigious Colonial, with the attention centering on all-time great Ben Hogan, playing his second tournament after a three-year absence from the tour, and favorites Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Gary Player.

Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are not competing.

U.S. Takes Third Title Straight

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (AP)—The United States won its third straight game in the World Amateur Basketball Championships Wednesday night by defeating Czechoslovakia 99-86 for a sweep of the qualifying round in Class A.

The victory also earned the Americans the No. 1 ranking in the final round which starts Saturday in Ljubljana.

Cheese Pie Invades Hearing on Obscenity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slapstick invaded a hearing of the Federal Obscenity Commission when a profanity-spouting underground press publisher shoved a cottage cheese pie in the face of an unsuspecting commission member.

Cards oozing down his face and over the front of his suit, Dr. Otto N. Larsen held his temper Wednesday and even managed a weak smile as the perpetrator, 28-year-old Thomas Forcade of the Underground Press Syndicate, unleashed a stream of profanity.

Forcade, of New York, said he was protesting the "unconstitutional, unlawful, prehistoric, obscene, absurd, Keystone Committee."

The pie-throwing incident capped testimony by Forcade that had all the earmarks of a Mack Sennett comedy.

The bearded witness, arriving with about a dozen followers dressed in hippie garb, read a statement bristling with obscenities and demanding complete freedom of the press. His testimony was accompanied by a tape recording of a Bob Dylan song, "You Don't Know What's Happening, Do You, Mr. Jones?"

Members of his group, meantime, passed around copies of

Tech, Harding Are Tied for Top Spot

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Tech and Harding are tied for the top spot in the competition for the AIC All-Sports trophy with only the track championship undecided.

Tech and Harding have 59 points each. State College of Arkansas has 58½, Ouachita 57½ and Southern State 54. Henderson is sixth with 47½ followed by Hendrix 30, Arkansas College 19, Arkansas A&M 11 and Ozarks 6½.

Teams are given 10 points for winning an AIC championship, nine points for finishing second, etc.

Hailed for Leading Bisons to a Sweep

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Goalender Gilles Villeneuve was hailed by coach Fred Shero for leading the Buffalo Bisons to the American Hockey League's Calder Cup via a sweep of their final playoff series with Springfield.

"He made the biggest stop every time we needed them," Shero said Wednesday night after the Bisons trounced the Kings 6-2 to close out the best-of-seven series in the minimum four games.

"The way he played gave our guys a lift to go back up ice and score," Shero added.

Villeneuve, the league's All-Star goalie, kicked out 29 shots over-all and held off the Kings for a 1-1 deadlock through the first two periods until the Buffalo offense got into high gear.

Pimlico More Truly Run Than Derby

By RONTURCOTTE
Written For The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — The 95th running of the Preakness at Pimlico in Baltimore Saturday will be a more truly run race than the Kentucky Derby.

It's hard to eliminate any of the colts.

The Derby had 17 horses, including some who didn't belong, while The Preakness will have about 12. There will be no need to battle for positions such as at Churchill Downs in Louisville two weeks ago.

I think I'll be riding the winner in Naskra, who is 10-1 in the pre-race odds.

He ran fourth in the Derby, the only time this year he was out of the money in nine starts. In the Derby stretch, he passed Silent Screen as though the 2-year-old champion of 1969 was standing still.

John Rotz, who will ride Silent Screen, thinks Naskra is the horse to beat and I think Silent Screen is the one to beat now that he will wear blinkers for the first time.

Silent Screen has a habit of bearing out and the blinkers might prevent this. Drifting out is costly and no rider can do justice for such a horse.

I go by a horse's action and I think I know where I'm going with Naskra.

Because of his speed, he can be rated anywhere in the race.

Braulio Baeza likes Naskra, not so much off his Derby race, but off the Blue Grass at Keeneland.

Braulio thought Naskra would win this race by 10 lengths until they were 150 yards from the wire.

It seems that's when Naskra threw a shoe and lost all his action.

Naskra missed the Flamingo and Florida Derby, coming up with a fever on the eve of each race. Another time he tore the wall of a hoof, I was told.

Now for a quick rundown on some of the top contenders:

Silent Screen—This is a class horse who has been out of the money only twice in 11 races and each time he was crowded

Glover Takes Bowling Tournament

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Don Glover of Bakersfield, Calif., representing the Losers Bracket, captured the American Bowling Congress Masters tournament here Wednesday night by defeating Bob Strampe of Detroit.

Glover's performance made it three years in a row that a bowler scored 5 four-game victories in the last day of competition to defeat a kegler from the Winners Bracket of the tournament.

Strampe had defeated Glover the first time they met, 898-862, to force the Californian to come back in the Losers Bracket. It was Glover's only loss during the competition.

Glover started Tuesday with an 882-723 win over John Wilcox of William, Pa., and then downed Davis of Atherton, Calif., 840-747, putting away John Guenther of Seattle next, 899-834.

Glover took Strampe 877 to force a second match off 821-800.

For his effort, Glover received a $4,500 check and he got $2,800.

Guenther finished for $2,300 and fourth Davis who collected $1,800. Foramsky of Houston captured fifth by edging Wilcox 861 for $1,350 and Wilcox collected $1,300.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

DISCRIMINATION, JUNIOR GRADE

Dear Helen: If they allow girls to go out and sell Scout cookies, why don't they drop the law that says we girls under 18 can't be "newspaper boys?"

Our State lets boys from age 12 up deliver papers, but not girls. I can ride a bike as well as my brother, and throw as straight too. And I wouldn't be out after dark.

Why the favoritism?—JOB-LESS

Dear Jobless: Such rulings were made B.E. (Before "Equality"). Because few people questioned them, they have remained on the books. Stir up a dozen or so letters to your legislators and the newspaper, and you'll be surprised how fast your fight against discrimination, junior grade, becomes a cause.—H.

Dear Helen: My parents fight constantly, over the smallest things. They threaten to kill themselves or leave.

Mother claims she only married Dad because she felt sorry for him. If that's the case, how come they had four children? Dad says he would get a divorce but as a "good Catholic" he can't. Hooey! The only reason he goes to church is because he wants to be part of the "Sunday Society Squad."

We've tried to get them to a counselor but they say they don't need one. It's worse than ever now that only my brother and I (age 16) are home, and I have to bear most of the battles as he works evenings. Our two sisters are secretaries and share a nice big apartment.

I am so tired of shouting and swearing I'd almost marry the first person that asked me, just to find some quiet. But nobody has asked me. How can we make our immature parents grow up —MARY JANE

Dear Mary: When you've reached the end of your rope, it's sometimes best to jump free. I'd suggest tape-recording a major battle. When your folks hear themselves as others hear them, perhaps they will either seek help or let you move in with your sisters. And that latter might be better until they shape up!—H.

Dear Helen: This boy is known as a real maniac with the girls, but he's always been a perfect gentleman with me. We have dated two weeks, starting the day he broke up with his steady, who is a dog.

He told me he didn't like her but she was an easy make, so-o-o- . . .

Last night he said he was going back to her, because I was "good good for him." He said he liked me best, but . . . he has needs that I don't understand. He said he'd never ask me to go against my standards, so it had to be good-bye.

Helen, I don't want him dating a tramp. He even says she's one. There's a way I could save him. He loves me, so it would be different. Wouldn't it?—TOO GOOD

Dear T.G.: Correction: He says he loves you. But that won't keep him from describing you as a "tramp" to his next conquest . . . after you "persuade" him. Sorry to disillusion you, T.G., but the old "You're too good for me" line is standard procedure for a guy who doesn't much care who he gets, just so he gets her to bed.—H.

It is very difficult, the source said, to convince clients that their cases will be handled effectively by juniors in a law firm—especially when the clients rarely see the senior partner, yet are called upon to pay senior partner fees.

Some Cabinet officers, he suggested, may find it difficult to adjust to a Nixon White House in which the decision-making process closely parallels that of a major law firm—with senior aides standing in the way of direct access to the President.

The isolation controversy has been fueled by public evidence that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird had little advance knowledge of Nixon's plan to withdraw 150,000 U.S. troops from South Vietnam during the coming year.

Also, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, appearing before a House committee, voiced strenuous arguments against involvement of American troops in Cambodia just a week before Nixon ordered combat forces into that country.

Almost simultaneously, Nixon had to face Hickey's complaint that the administration "finds itself embracing a philosophy which appears to lack appropriate concern for the attitude of a great mass of Americans—our young people."

If that weren't enough, Hickey found Cabinet sympathizers for his other complaint that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's attacks on the motives of youthful dissenters "can serve little purpose other than to further cement those attitudes to a solidly impossible to penetrate with reason."

Rogers told a news conference he expressed general agreement with Hickey's views when the interior secretary approached him last week, but did not give advance approval of the letter his Cabinet colleague subsequently sent to Nixon.

Sunday, George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, stated in New York, "I think that Secretary Hickey rendered a real service in the letter that he wrote, and I'm pleased that the President recognized that he had made a sound suggestion, and acted promptly."

Agnew did not need a direct presidential order to temper his public remarks, it developed. Although Nixon's chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman, quickly assured the vice president by telephone he would not be censored by the White House, Agnew read the headlines and, at his next speaking stop, threw away the toughest part of his prepared text—an attack on Vietnam dissenters.

On demonstration day, Agnew delivered another mild speech in Georgia and Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare, a long-time Nixon friend, who no longer belongs to the inner circle, contributed to the dialogue about the vice president.

Finch, responding to a question from a youthful protester, said Agnew's past rhetoric contributed to "heating up the climate" in which four Kent State University students were shot to death last week by Ohio National Guardsmen.

Historically, Cabinet officers have been almost as prone as vice presidents to feel discontent with their lot, but they usually kept their feelings to themselves while in office.

However, four of Nixon's 10 Cabinet members—Hickey, Rogers, Romney and Finch—have, to one degree or another indicated they have not been totally pleased about the administration's track record.

Books Presented to School Nurse

DOUGLAS DRAKE and MRS. SUE SULLIVAN

Recently, Douglas Drake, vice-president of the Hempstead County Association for Retarded Children presented ten copies of a booklet entitled PUBERTY IN THE GIRL WHO IS RETARDED, by Ann Patullo, to the nurse for the Hope Public Schools, Mrs. Sue Sullivan.

The booklet is designed to help mothers of mentally retarded girls cope with some of the problems puberty presents and will be used for the girls in the Special Education Classes.

25 District School Plans Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Tentative approval was given Wednesday to desegregation plans submitted by about 25 Arkansas school districts that are under a threat of a Justice Department lawsuit for failure to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Frank Dunbaugh of the U.S. Justice Department said formal approval is to be given later this week by Stan Pottinger in the Office of Civil Rights in the Justice Department.

Dunbaugh, deputy assistant attorney general for the division, said about three districts needed to supply additional information to obtain tentative approval and the remaining districts had to modify their plans.

He declined to identify the districts that had been given approval.

The districts will be identified by the State Education Department after it receives formal notification that the plans have been accepted, Dunbaugh said.

Dunbaugh said the attitude of the districts generally had been cooperative and that school board members seemed to understand that "the job is going to be done this year."

All of the approved plans will bring about complete integration in the districts next fall, he said.

Two teams from the Justice Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare met with school board members in sessions that began Tuesday. The board members represented 33 of the 39 districts that had originally been named in the lawsuit. The Pine Bluff School District Board, under court order to devise an acceptable plan by June 1, discussed the Pine Bluff situation with one of the teams late Wednesday.

Six districts that were to have been defendants in the lawsuit have not pledged to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Dunbaugh said legal action involving these districts would be taken in about three weeks or a month.

The districts with which the teams met were England, Plum Bayou, Newport, Turrell, Hughes, Augusta, Palestine, Parkin, Earle, Stuttgart, Helena - West Helena, Phillips

County, Texarkana, Cotton Plant, Dermott, Lonoke, Bart-on-Lexa, Stamps, Arkansas City, Ashdown, Elain, Clarendon, Conway County, Brinkley, Marion, Huttig, Lawson, Urbana, Eurora, Chicot County, Collins, Stephens and Pine Bluff.

The Linwood District had been on the list but was dropped when the district was found to be in compliance.

Farm Bureau Barbecue Picnic Scenes

Television and Radio

NEW YORK AP — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in a 90-minute interview by David Frost broadcast Wednesday, added no new fuel to fires, amplified his position on some issues and more than anything else revealed something of himself.

Frost, showing intensive preparation for the session taped last week in Hollywood, started the program by asking Agnew about his boyhood, his relationship with his parents and with his own children.

These led to smooth transitions to the vice president's explanation in detail of some of his attitudes, particularly in connection with youthful dissent.

Agnew said he grew up in "typical middle-class suburban" surroundings, liked sports, had a "stern father" whose reprimands he feared although he never received corporal punishment.

He punished his own children, he said, by depriving them of privileges.

Frost then asked Agnew about his World War II Army service. The vice president said he believed that in combat he had killed a man and added: "In combat there is no such thing as a coward or a hero. You can be one thing one day and be the other the next."

On the youth protest, Agnew said, "I have never criticized young people as a group, I referred to radicals breaking the law."

He repeated this point several times. He also emphasized his opinion that there is confusion in young people's minds about the difference between "being heard and being heeded."

"They are definitely being heard," he said. "Being heeded is something else."

Frost asked if Agnew felt he had miscalculated in his use of "galvanic phrases" in his speeches. Agnew replied, "Not a bit." He did complain that remarks about himself—"Sen. Fulbright called me a smart aleck"—do not receive the same attention in the communications media as do his own.

His explanation of current policy in Cambodia followed the administration line.

Throughout the interview, the talk was moderate and the mood sober, with no flashes of humor by either man. The vice president had a tendency to state positions and ideas, rarely illuminating them with examples.

To this viewer, the 90 minutes resulted in a portrait of a self-confident, tough-minded man. It was a most interesting program.

Attend Convention

MRS. LESTER KENT AND MRS. SAM DEAN

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau Women were represented Tuesday at Arkadelphia as Southwest Arkansas women learned about activities of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Women and how they might be more effective in local farm and public affairs.

Attending from this county were Mrs. Lester Kent of Hope and Mrs. Mary Spates of Mc-Nab. Mrs. Kent appeared on the program and Mrs. Dean is the Southwest District Committee-woman.

TOP PHOTO— Shown above is a part of more than 400 people who attended the Farm Bureau Barbecue held Friday night May 1. Entertainment for this group was by the Odom Quartet, Mrs. John Henley, and the Madrigals under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Nicholson.

Song 'Dixie' Protest to Appeals Court

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Negro attorney for two Jonesboro, Ark., students told the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Wednesday that the playing of "Dixie" represents a form of segregation.

John Walker of Little Rock said the song "offends" some black people.

Arkla Wants More Gas, Higher Rate

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — W. R. Stephens, president and board chairman of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., said Tuesday that the firm would have to find new sources of natural gas for Arkansas consumers.

Postal Reform Bill Has Been Worked Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — A postal reform bill that has administration backing has been worked out by the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., said Wednesday.

Final committee action on the measure is expected late this week, he added.

The Senate version differs from another reform bill written by a corresponding House committee.

One difference is that the Senate version would not give Congress veto power over postal rate increases.

McGee said Blount "thinks he can live with" the Senate version although not all details have been worked out.

Mrs. Crip Hall Announces for Re-election

State Treasurer NANCY (MRS. CRIP) HALL signed her pledge and paid her filing fee to the Democrat State Committee. She also signed a Political Practice's Act Pledge with the Secretary of State.

MRS. CRIP HALL

Mrs. Hall said, "I am seeking re-election as your State Treasurer and will be true to my campaign slogan, 'I'll be Careful With Your Money.' My assistants and I will continue to conduct the affairs of the State Treasurer's office for the benefit of all of the people of the State.

The State Legislature of 1965 authorized investment of State Surpluses to draw interest in state banks. Under this bill, when the Secretary of the Board of Finance retired, his duties were transferred to State Treasurer. Mrs. Hall also serves as a member of the State Employees' Retirement Board, the Board of the Teachers Retirement System, the Board of the Highway Employees' Retirement System and Secretary of the Arkansas Rural Endowment Fund.

Mrs. Hall is the only woman ever elected to one of the seven state constitutional offices. Previously she served one term as Secretary of State, filling by appointment the unexpired term of her husband, the late C.G. "Crip" Hall. During his tenure she served continuously as his assistant.

Mrs. Hall led both the Democratic and Republican tickets in the Election of 1968.

Exchange's Start

The New York Stock Exchange had its beginning on May 17, 1792, when, under a buttonwood tree on Wall Street, 24 brokers signed an agreement setting up a central marketplace for investors to buy and sell securities issued by the new nation to pay Revolutionary War debts.

A South player with an advanced case of notrumpitis would respond two notrump to his partner's opening club bid. Why should he worry about his doubleton heart? His partner had opened a club without either the ace or queen. He would have to hold some heart strength to compensate.

South didn't have this disease in that very virulent form. He did respond one diamond and when his partner bid a heart, South wasn't going to waste any more time fooling a round. His three notrump call rang loud and clear.

South was right about the heart danger having disappeared. He had forgotten about diamonds. West opened the jack and East plunked the king on dummy's queen. Since East also held the spade ace South could have made his contract by holding up his ace of diamonds a couple of times but that play would have been a loser if West held the spade ace.

South thought a better chance would be to win the first diamond, enter dummy with a heart and lead a spade. If West held the spade ace, everything would be fine and if East held the ace and ducked South would have nine tricks. South tried that but East jumped out first spade and led a diamond and another notrump game contract had missed.

South did have a relatively problem over one heart but only a victim of notrumpitis would have solved it by bidding three notrump. An old fashioned easy going bidder would have jumped to three clubs. A superstitious modernist would have bid one spade. Either way, the chances are that the final contract would have been six clubs and in our lexicon of bridge it is always better to play a lay-down six clubs than to struggle with three notrump. After all, there is a nice bonus for a slam bid and made.

Pupil Accident Insurance

Growing in popularity are insurance policies that cover the schoolchild in case of an accident. Since the idea is relatively new, a number of legal questions have arisen—notably, as to accidents that happen somewhere between the school and the home.

A schoolboy, starting homeward after school, decided to make a slight detour in order to accompany a friend on a shopping errand. During the detour, the boy suffered a painful fall. In due course, his parents tried to collect on a student accident policy, claiming that it covered their son while he was travelling to or from school. But the insurance company denied liability.

"Our policy did cover him on the way home from school," the company conceded in court, "but only if he was going 'directly' home. Here, although he was going home, he was not going directly. Therefore, this accident is not covered by the policy."

Nevertheless, the court decided the company would have to pay off.

"The deviation was slight," said the judge. "A practical and sensible interpretation of 'directly' will permit such a deviation. The company must have known the propensity of children not to follow a straight line."

On the other hand, there are limits as to how far afield the child can stray before losing his protection.

In another case, a youngster fell out of a tree and fractured his arm. At the time of the mishap, school had been over for almost an hour. Furthermore, the boy, instead of moving toward home, had actually gone some distance in the opposite direction. In these circumstances, a court ruled that the insurance protection did not stretch that far.

Of course, the terms of the individual policy may make all the difference. In another case, parents tried to collect when a school accident policy when their son got hurt right at home.

Obviously, the accident had nothing to do with school. Yet, the policy stated in so many words that it covered the boy on a 24-hour basis. Following the plain terms of the policy, a court granted the parent's claim.

Roy Anderson—
Writing on Old Times in Hope

The Southwest Arkansas section of the armed forces enjoyed during the World War II years Roy Anderson's monthly home-town servicemen's letter. After the war Roy continued this private enterprise, now largely directed to a select list of civilians.

Every once in a while Roy lets The Star in on a copy—he steadfastly refuses our invitation to write a column for regular publication—and here are some of his recollections of the past in Hope, from Letter 93:

Dear Folks: More of things about Hope in years past.

Hope High Stadium: This was built by W.P.A. about 1938, and the local committee was Robert Wilson, Pat Duffie and me (we got no pay), and had Joe Floyd, a member of the School Board as our secretary. The school had to pay for the material and had no money so the City did this, and that was our job. The W.P.A. provided the labor at .30 cents per hour. The plan was patterned after the Henderson State Stadium. The farmers too were broke, and wanted work—not on W.P.A., but we paid them .30 cents per hour (our limit) to haul top soil with their wagons and teams and thus laid the turtle back of the football field as now is. The Mayor appointed me to represent the City to get the material with title of Park Commission. This was when we, with W.P.A. and N.Y.A. (National Youth Admin'n., of CCC Camps) built the first Boy Scout Hut and other improvements at the City Park, and set out Elm trees on Highway 67. Many made donations for the stadium, such as Hope Brick Works; J.K. Sales of the Ark-La., Gas Co., gave used pipe for the inside fence and around the boxes. The outside fence—the tile by Hope Brick Co. Calvin Cassidy of Cox-Cassidy Foundry, helped with welders, and many others. The School Board had purchased the land back of school from McMillan, but not enough—we had no room for a track, which was later built with the help of $15,000 of Water & Light Funds. Foy Hammons came here as Coach, after a very successful stay at Pine Bluff and Monticello A.M., and Ouachita. He could command more pay than schools could pay, so the Bobcat Booster Club started by interested fans, some paying as much to the Club as $10.00 or more per month to help out Coach's salary. In those years we played Pine Bluff, Jonesboro, Blytheville, et al. After Foy's death, folks honored his memory by naming the Stadium "Hammons".

To you Mamas and Papas, don't discourage your little boy when he skips mowing the lawn, and goes out with other kids to play baseball, football or basketball. Later, he may be a Mickey Mantle, a Bob Lanier, or a Joe Namath (but cut his hair), and get a contract to play professional at one million for signing up. That's more than you made in a lifetime, so support your Little League, and thank the sponsors and those working in the "Recreation" Program. Of course, if he likes music, encourage him—he may be an Elvis Presley or a Glen Campbell, and too make $10,000 per week.

Hope High School: Have you folks ever been in a depression? I have. It was after the 1929 stock crash and everyone was broke. We didn't have enough money to buy a bowl of chili, or a new shirt. It was about this time, in 1931, when the schools were broke, too, and the teachers being paid $100.00 by school warrants, which they would discount 15 to 20 per cent to get cash, then Dr. Smith, President of the School Board, with Robert Wilson, Theo Witt, et al., and Robert told me that the Board was worried about how to get along and pay the teachers, and all out of a clear sky Doc says, "Hell, let's build a new school building." And they did. The Board appeared before the City Council (I served there for 4 years), and we made a deal. The City was broke too but we (the City) bought the land where was then the Garland School for $15,000, giving to schools 15 city warrants of $1,000 each payable monthly. The City needed the land for the Courthouse, where it now is with Courthouse, Army and Health Clinic.

This helped the schools—new

Move to Stop Effort to Cut Army Funds

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today that maintenance of South Vietnamese troops in Cambodia after President Nixon's June 30 deadline for withdrawal of U.S. forces would mean the United States would remain indirectly involved in that country.

But Mansfield, a Montana Democrat, declined to say whether he felt that would mean Nixon's pledge to end the U.S. operation into Cambodia by that date was not being adhered to.

Noting that South Vietnamese leaders have failed to give a similar pledge, but have indicated they will continue their operations in Cambodia, Mansfield said "If they stay in, it means that indirectly we are staying in."

"It will just be an illustration of Saigon's tall-wagging and pulling us around," he added. Mansfield rejected the arguments of those opposing efforts to limit U.S. involvement in Cambodia that this would restrict presidential powers.

"Not in the least," he said. Noting Nixon's June 30 deadline, he said "We're just getting behind him."

Republican Leader Hugh Scott sought meanwhile to line up GOP senators behind his amendment that would maintain presidential authority to put American troops into Cambodia to protect U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Scott's effort was a counter-move aimed at stopping an amendment by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, barring funds for retraining U.S. troops in Cambodia and limiting future aid for air strikes.

Scott has proposed amending the Cooper-Church amendment to authorize U.S.-Cambodian operations if the President decides they are necessary to protect Americans in Vietnam.

The Cooper-Church amendment, the first in a series of proposals dealing with U.S. action in Vietnam and Cambodia, is attached to a military sales bill. The Senate formally opened debate on the measure Wednesday in a discussion that likely will occupy it until July.

High School—started in 1931, used as High and Junior High, but like most things, they were too small, so it wasn't long before new Junior High had to be built. The new grade school called Garland—named for Augustus H. Garland who never lived in Hope, but born and reared in Washington, Ark., and was in the Cabinet of Pres. Grover Cleveland as Attorney General; the only man from Arkansas to be in a President's Cabinet. His old home at Washington, Ark., is being restored as a show place.

Faith! Have you got it? One thing he said is "Just Believe." One of God's children, older than I, writes me of an old negro tenant share cropper,—that it was a wet spring and much rain and grass in the crops, and he came in for more supplies, and Mr. Gus said, and maybe fearful the old negro wouldn't "pay out"—"Moose, the Lord has sent us too much rain." "Now, Sah, Mr. Gus, the Lord He don't make no mistakes." We all should have faith like that. This dear lady is the one I may have told you about —when I came home from Church, and driving down Main St., as the Baptists had turned out and I stopped in heavy traffic to let her by and said, "Well, Sister, did you get your cup full this morning?" And she replied, "Brother, it never was quite empty." It's strange that out in the busy world our cup sometimes runs dry, to where we have to go on Sunday to have a "refill."

One of my curious Springfield friends asked: "Mr. Roy, how come you get car license 810 —and no letter symbol?" That's an old story, but Vera and I lived at 810 South Main Street for 50 years, our phone number used to be 810, so I asked the Revenue Dept., for car license No. 810, and got it, but I pay extra for it. Had it about 30 years.

Fighting in Cambodia and Vietnam Boosts U.S. Battle Deaths

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Fighting in Cambodia and South Vietnam boosted American battlefield deaths last week to their highest level in more than eight months and South Vietnamese losses to their second highest in the war, official casualty summaries disclosed today.

The U.S. Command said 168 Americans were killed in action in Southeast Asia last week. It gave no breakdown for Cambodian and South Vietnamese operations.

The command also reported that through Wednesday 110 U.S. troops have been killed in Cambodian operations since they were launched April 29 to destroy North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps and supply depots used for staging attacks into South Vietnam.

Fulbright Says Nixon Evades Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has never directly responded to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's two-week old request for a rare face-to-face meeting on Cambodia.

Senate committee members interpret silence as rejection. "We have had no reply," said Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman, "not unless he considers the other meeting to be a reply."

The other meeting was a May 4 briefing when Nixon and several administration officials met members of the Senate panel and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Fulbright said there was no opportunity then for real consultation with the President. "That was hardly a conference," said Vermont Sen. George D. Aiken, senior GOP member of the committee. "Apparently the White House was not receptive to the request," he said.

"It looks as though the President felt that we wouldn't approve of what he was planning to do anyway," Aiken said in an interview.

Fulbright said he did not plan to renew the request the committee made of Nixon in a letter May 1, the day after the Cambodian decision was announced. There were complaints elsewhere in the Senate about com-

Some of Those Who Get the Most Applause Do the Least Good

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the people who get the most applause in this world do the least good.

They just happened to be standing in the right place when the spotlight came on. Or they saw to it that they were. From your own experience don't you know any number of people who are nowhere to be seen when hard work is to be done, but when the gravy train comes by they emerge out of nowhere and are first to hop aboard, holding a ready ladle in each hand?

Sometime, somehow, this injustice should be righted and credit given where credit is due, proper honor accorded to those deserving of recognition but now nameless to renown. Here, for example, are a few unsung heroes worthy of a medal or at least a mention in dispatches:

Anybody who starts to write a memo and then decides not to, or who ever buys the first round, Secretaries who are homely but can spell.

Resort owners who serve meals free any day that it rains. Any bus driver willing to change a $5 bill without adopting the air of a martyr.

A husband tolerant enough to let his wife wear the same length miniskirt he admires on younger girls.

headquarters reported that 863 government troops were killed in action last week.

Headquarters said nearly 400 South Vietnamese troops have been killed in Cambodia in the past two weeks, but like the U.S. Command gave no breakdown for the past week.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed that allied forces killed 5,898 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops last week, the highest enemy toll in more than 14 months.

The commands said 6,212 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed during the 16-day offensive into Cambodian territory.

In fighting Wednesday, South Vietnamese forces supported by U.S. helicopter gunships engaged the enemy at two points inside Cambodia south of the provincial capital of Svay Rieng, government headquarters announced.

The South Vietnamese military command claimed that its forces killed 199 of the enemy and seized 168 weapons and hundreds of mortar and rocket rounds. The battles raged all day Wednesday five miles south and 15 miles southeast of Svay Rieng, which is 30 miles west of the border on Highway 1.

The command said 18 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 63 wounded, but gave no other details of the action.

The U.S. Command said American helicopter gunships and advisers supported the South Vietnamese troops in the operation. One American was reported wounded.

The action centered from 50 to 65 miles west of Saigon in the southern half of the Parrot's Beak, a long-time sanctuary for North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces.

U.S. forces operating farther northeast, in the Fishhook region of Cambodia 80 to 100 miles north of Saigon, reported killing 81 enemy soldiers in a series of small clashes Wednesday.

The Americans also uncovered two enemy rice caches of more than 50 tons, headquarters said. Nine U.S. soldiers were wounded.

Brown to Talk About Race

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles Brown, a Little Rock attorney, said Wednesday that he will go on television Saturday night to "talk about the governor's race."

Brown has been mentioned as a potential gubernatorial candidate and has admitted that he has "seriously considered" making a race.

As of noon Wednesday, Fulbright employees and volunteers said that 26,004 telegrams and 38,925 letters in favor of the senator's position had been received. Aides said that only 2,708 letters and telegrams had been received in favor of the president's move to send troops into Cambodia.

Fulbright said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, that although many of the letters and telegrams come from citizens of all ages and from all parts of the country, many were sent by students and young people.

Baccalaureate at Laneburg High Sunday

Baccalaureate services for Laneburg High School will be held on Sunday, May 17 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Danny Bullock.

Commencement exercises will be held on Friday, May 22 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The guest speaker will be Edward Trice, Superintendent of Schools, Texarkana, Ark.

Honor graduates for this year are Nancy Glass, Valedictorian, and Jan Loe, Salutatorian. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glass of Emmet, Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Yes, these are a few of the obscure heroes of our time. But before we can honor them we first have to find them. There lies the problem.

Cambodian Action to Be Limited

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon evidently plans to take limited military actions to block North Vietnam's reconstruction of sanctuary bases in Cambodia after his June 30 deadline for withdrawal of all U.S. forces.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers told a news conference Wednesday he expects joint U.S.-South Vietnamese naval patrols to continue off the Cambodian coast and he would not rule out continuing American air activity over the tiny Southeast Asian nation after June 30.

The naval patrol, disclosed a few days ago, has the task of intercepting North Vietnamese or Viet Cong vessels delivering arms, ammunition and other stores destined for the Cambodian interior near the South Vietnamese border.

The continued air activity presumably would be reconnaissance in nature at the outset but if supply centers were spotted conceivably could lead to bombing attacks. Rogers, however, gave no details whatever.

Rogers also said under questioning he expects the United States will take part in arranging military cooperation between Cambodia and any South Vietnamese troops remaining after the current operation ends.

Other information brought out at the Rogers' news conference indicated the administration intends to prevent the movement of new enemy supplies into Cambodia as much as possible within its announced policy—the June 30 withdrawal deadline and the 21.7-mile limit on American troop penetration.

Rogers emphatically ruled out any U.S. troop support for the new Cambodian government of Premier Lon Nol, or any other regime in Phnom Penh.

He said that was the point he was trying to make when he told a closed House committee meeting April 23 that more involvement of U.S. troops in Cambodia would defeat the administration's program of withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Fulbright Claims 64,000 Letters Backing Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Wednesday that he had received more than 64,000 letters and telegrams backing his stand against the war in Southeast Asia.

Complaints Mushroom That Nixon Isolated From Public Opinion

By FRANK CORMER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon runs the presidency as if he were senior partner of a large Manhattan law firm — which may help explain the recent cries that he is isolated.

Complaints that Nixon is cut off, not only from public opinion but from the thinking of ranking members of his own administration as well, have mushroomed following disclosure last week of a letter to the President from Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who wrote:

"Finally, Mr. President, permit me to suggest that you consider meeting, on an individual and conversational basis, with members of your Cabinet. Perhaps through such conversations, we can gain greater insight into the problems confronting us all, and most important, into the solutions of these problems."

A close Nixon associate, who did not want to be quoted by name, cited the senior law partner analogy in an effort to explain why some Cabinet members apparently feel cut off

Protests on Campuses Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio University students broke windows and set small fires on campus and in downtown Athens for two hours early today after shouting down an attempt by university President Claude W. Sowle to address a protest rally.

Police battled the rock-throwing demonstrators with tear gas in the latest outbreak of violence during a nationwide wave of student strikes and demonstrations protesting the Indochina war and the killing of four Kent State University students.

Up to 3,000 students at the 19,500-student Ohio University had demonstrated peacefully until Wednesday when Sowle suspended seven students whom he accused, without elaboration, of being threats to the security of the university.

"I am dedicated to the idea that this simply can't be another Kent State or Ohio State" where students closed their universities, Sowle said.

During the disorders, eight students were arrested and an auxiliary police officer was injured by a rock thrown through a window of his cruiser.

The student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., reported 267 colleges and universities were on strikes of indefinite length. The center reported 286 schools on strike Tuesday.

Ex-Mental Patient Kills Three

By WILLIAM R. RUMBLER
Associated Press Writer

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Police are seeking a former mental patient who they say returned to the vast hospital complex where he had been confined, fatally shot three officials and wounded a fourth.

The rampage Wednesday lasted 20 minutes, with the killer stopping at five buildings and leaving victims in four of them as he drove through the sprawling 265-acre Veterans Administration Hospital in a stolen car.

A murder warrant was issued for Coleman G. Gish, 46, formerly of Buda, Ill., who was released from the hospital two years ago.

All four victims were shot while standing behind desks; talking on the telephone. All but one was shot in the head.

One of the victims, the Rev. Gerhard Levenenz, 55, hospital chaplain, was found alive 15 to 20 minutes after he was shot but died near Crawfordsville, Ind., en route to an Indianapolis hospital.

Dr. Roger Arnold, 55, director of psychiatric services, was shot in both shoulders while he was talking on the telephone in his office, but survived.

W. Dale Cooper, 45, director of volunteer services, was believed to be the first victim. He was on the telephone with his wife when the gunman entered. Mrs. Cooper said her husband paused in his conversation and then she heard a shot. She immediately alerted the hospital switchboard.

Bessie Mealer, 57, superintendent of the hospital laundry, was on the telephone with an employee. Mrs. Mealer cried out, "Oh, no!" and a shot was heard over the phone.

After the gunman left Cooper's office at about 1:15 p.m., he drove to the administration building and asked a secretary, Mari Lou Rice, if he could see the director. At the time, the director of the hospital, Marvin Chapman, was away from his office.

The gunman, whom Miss Rice described as softspoken and nervous, ran off when she suggested that he wait. Seconds later, Chapman returned to his office.

Shortly before the shooting spree began, the gunman, described as of medium height, slightly stooped and graying, had pointed a gun at a student eating his lunch in the parking lot of a college campus and ordered him to drive to the nearby hospital.

Inside the hospital gates, the gunman told the student, 19-year-old Cary Brownfield Jr., to get out and start walking. Brownfield ran for the college to call police.

Little was known of Gish. His father, Grant Gish of Buda, reached by telephone, said the son had committed himself to the hospital several years ago, saying, "You know, I can't think straight anymore."

Other relatives said he had been a Navy officer in World War II.

The elder Gish said he had not seen his son in more than a year.

Hope Group on Channel 12 Spotlight

Mayor Frank Douglas, Housing Director Mike Kelly and City Manager Garland Medders taped a 15 minute program on the Ark-La-Tex Spotlight Program run by Channel 12, Shreveport on Saturday afternoon. The program was run the following day and very few people in Hope knew about it. And, due to a mixup, it was run at a different time than advertised in the TV program.

Because of the mixup, Program Director of Channel 12, John Benshaw, will re-run the program from 3:45 to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 16th. This time spot will be just in front of the annual running of the Peaches, which should assure Hope of a good viewing audience over the entire area. This program spotlights a different city or town in the Ark-La-Tex Area each Saturday afternoon, so Hope will be on Channel 12 TV at 3:45 p.m. Saturday.

IF YOU'RE TIRED OF THE NO-DEPOSIT, NO-RETURN, COMPUTER WAY OF LIFE - SEE THIS MOVING SPECIAL ABOUT THE REBIRTH OF THE AMERICAN CRAFTSMAN.

8:00 P.M.

The world is looking you straight in the eye and the young, fashion-alert girls have discovered that this new picture-frame fashion accent demands just the right hat to set off a complete look. Pamela Toll, young New York actress seen daily in mood-setting close-ups for television serials and announcements, has selected four new "face framers." For the tailored mood, the softly draped back-tie turban of red, white and blue silk (top left) by Yves St. Laurent gives her a soft, yet efficient, look. What better way for a girl to signal that she has flair than to choose a Spanish gaucho hat of brilliant red with a chic rope tie (top right) by Betmar? The soft, floppy brim of white waffle pique by Frank Olive (lower left) adds charm to Pamela's expression. And last, for the fun of it, a jaunty poor boy cap and poncho of brilliant Madras plaid by Betmar.

One Arm Gone, but He Wants to Be Cop Again

By LEE MUELLER

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The popularity of policemen appears to have bottomed out in the bowels of the graft scandal in New York. The image of the smiling man who once stuck up his palm to halt traffic for children has changed.

Now the cop is pictured with money gripped in that hand. Or a club.

It has become quite fashionable, in fact, to poke the pigs: to stick out tongues and accusing fingers at cops in Chicago who wallop yuppies; at officers in Berkeley who wallop hippies; and at southern sheriffs who wallop Negroes.

In a recent poll of a Brooklyn fifth grade class, only one student in 343 said he wanted to grow up to be a policeman. Why? "I want to beat up on some kids I know," he said.

Nobody wants to be a policeman any more. Well, almost nobody. There is Richie Devlin, who, at 28, should know better. He wants to be a cop, again.

Three months ago, Patrolman Richie Devlin and two other officers were sneaking up on two burglars in a Demarest, N.J., country club when one of the policemen tripped over a log. The 12-gauge shotgun in his hand went off and blasted Devlin's left shoulder.

"I thought it blew my arm off," he said, "because it just went up in the air, like it was loose. I saw parts of my jacket go by, but I didn't feel anything. It was a kind of numbness. I fell to the ground.

"I knew I was shot. I remember asking one of the officers I always went hunting with if he would tell my wife that I'd been shot."

Three days later, Devlin's left arm was amputated. Several days after that, he told the Demarest town council that he wanted to be a policeman again. Minds boggled. A one-armed policeman?

"I was a narcotics officer. I liked working in narcotics," he said. "I can always get a job. I've been offered several great jobs since the accident, but I would prefer to stay on the force. I feel like I'm really accomplishing something. . . you get a call and maybe you can save somebody's life."

"I don't think the injury will keep me from doing my job. The doctor says that with my artificial arm, I'll be able to do about anything I did before. I'm right-handed, you know. I see no reason why they wouldn't let me return."

Devlin is just under six feet tall, with black hair. He and his life live in nearby Cresskill, N.J., with their two children. The town council, he says, is probably waiting until he undergoes one final operation on his arm before they tell him he's rehired.

Meanwhile, he waits and heals and half-jokes. "I'm not supposed to be here, you know," he said. "When they got me to the hospital and tried to take my blood pressure, they couldn't find any."

Devlin joined Demarest Police Chief James Powderly's nine-man force two years ago after four years as an officer for Jersey's interstate parkway. "Devlin is a very good officer," Powderly said. "He has a very pleasant personality."

A pleasant personality is handy sometimes.

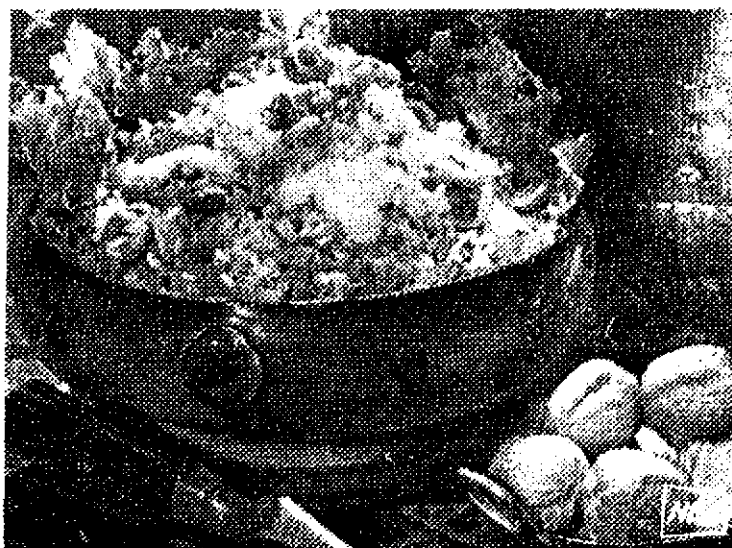

"I'm not bitter," Devlin said. "This is something that can happen. You carry a gun, you can get shot by a gun. I wasn't shot by a crook, but it could have been a crook. The risk was there. You got to be prepared to take the consequences."

A steelworker might fall off the building, but he's got to be prepared to go up there and do his work."

Devlin should be careful. Saying things like that could give policemen a good name.

We're all familiar with rice and walnuts. Why not put the two together for a different and delicious salad? In the inexpensive category, the salad plays a natural role warm or cold for buffets or barbecues.

This particular dish is inspired by eating habits of those in the Near Eastern countries such as Turkey, Iran, Rumania and Yugoslavia. Here rice and walnuts are particularly favored in cookery.

A walnut-rice salad is easy to do and also is low in calories.

TURKISH WALNUT-RICE SALAD

2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel

1 cup long-grain rice
1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

3/4 cup coarsely chopped, toasted walnuts
1/4 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives

Lemon dressing
Crisp lettuce
Yogurt (optional)

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

To be old, to live alone and to lack money for adequate food is the unhappy state of many Americans. But Massachusetts is doing something to ease that situation. In 10 of its communities the state is providing a hot school-type lunch for the elderly. This also gives them opportunity to be with others.

"After the children eat their school lunch, then it's the elders' turn. Each person pays 50 cents for a type-A lunch which provides a third of the day's nutritional requirements for a child of 12. For the older men and women we give three ounces of protein instead of the two ounces for children and provide coffee or tea," explains Marion L. Cronan, director of Homemaking and Food Service in Brookline, Mass. She is also a distinguished expert in food service, with a master's degree from Columbia University.

"Often they keep their half-pint of milk and the bread to take home for supper," Miss Cronan adds.

The Massachusetts State Commission on Aging contributes another 22 cents to cover food and labor costs. Those eligible for the school lunch program must be 59 or over and have a monthly income not to exceed the limitations established for medical assistance for the aged in the state. The Commission on Aging provides identification cards.

"At both the Devotion School and at the Pevsner School, for example, at least 25 or more elderly persons are well-fed. Approximately 350 senior citizens are provided a hot midday meal in the same way across the state," Miss Cronan explains, adding.

"In the Brookline area a very high percentage of the elderly live in furnished rooms. Many are not permitted to have hot plates because of fire laws. You can imagine what our hot food means to them."

"They get a balanced lunch and an opportunity to meet other people. That is a tremendous psychological boost for those who live alone."

As with the children, the school lunch introduces to the older people many good foods they would otherwise probably never eat. The results often are an improvement in their health and a revived interest in living.

"We explain gently why certain foods and certain amounts of it are essential to their health. Furthermore, representatives of the Brookline Multiservice Center talk to them, suggesting ways to get medical and social assistance. Often, too, someone entertains them by playing the piano or some school children sing for them," she adds.

"When the program first started, many of the older men and women would eat by themselves and not talk to each other. This has changed. They now dress in their best eager to make new friends at lunch."

"This is really a wonderful program. As one old lady said, 'If I eat at a lunch counter, I have to pay 40 cents for just a toasted muffin and a cup of coffee. But here, for 50 cents I get a hot, full meal and meet lots of other people.'" salt, oregano and lemon peel. Add rice, cover and cook for 20 minutes or until water is absorbed. Cool thoroughly. Add celery, onion, walnuts and olives. Pour Lemon dressing over all and toss lightly. Serve on crisp lettuce. Top with a small spoonful of yogurt if desired. Makes six servings.

Lemon Dressing
Combine 1/4 cup salad oil, two tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Shake together or beat well.

Golden Spike Driven 101 Years Ago: Historic Utah Site Draws Rail Buffs

By JIM CROSSLEY

It was a year ago that the Golden Spike was driven for the second time. That was the centennial. Even so, there's still a good reason to plan to stop at Promontory, Utah, if taking a summer tour anywhere near Salt Lake City.

Those who missed the celebration in 1969 are welcome at the Golden Spike National Historic Site and there is much to see.

It marks, of course, the point of meeting between the Central Pacific, started in Sacramento, Calif., and the Union Pacific, started from Omaha, Neb.

Construction on the trans-continental railroad was hard to get started.

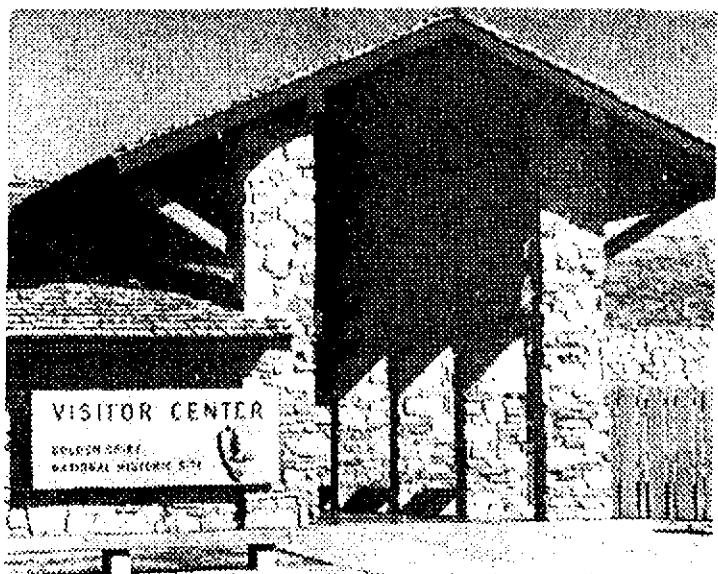

From groundbreaking in 1863 until 1865 neither end showed more than 50 miles of track laid. Great blocks of federal land along the right-of-way and other inducements finally got the action going.

It was about as hard to get it stopped. It took an act of Congress, four years later. The grading crews of the two companies had passed each other and prepared parallel routes for about 100 miles.

Two men, one in the East and one in the West, had been important instruments in getting the road built.

Visitors at a small historical museum in New York state can trace one of them.

In the village of Fishers, N. Y., 15 miles east of Rochester, is located the Ghost City of Valentown Museum. Its steady stream of visitors becomes a torrent during one week of the year when the spectacular Mormon Pageant (this year, July 27-Aug. 1) draws thousands to nearby Hill Cumorah. Most museum visitors learn for the first time about a resident of the area, Dr. Hartwell Carver, who has been called the "Father of the Pacific Railroad."

Promontory, Utah, where the great western rail link finally was completed a century ago.

Starting in 1828, he foresaw the need for such a link and began an active campaign to promote the idea. This was remarkable because the Erie Canal had just opened the way to the "west" in 1825. Nevertheless, Carver took time from his career as a surgeon to write to newspapers and to importune Congress.

His reward came 43 years later, in 1871, when the Union Pacific gave him a grand tour across the nation with banquets and ceremonies all the way to California.

There was no such recognition for the West Coast counterpart of Carver. This man's burning obsession with the need for a railroad eastward across the Sierra Nevadas from California brought him the derisive nickname of "Crazy Judah." He was an obscure civil engineer, real name Theodore Dehorne Judah, and was successful in pursuing his dream—to a point. He interested four prosperous Sacramento merchants in the project and the Central Pacific Company was born as a result.

His reward? When the success of the company was assured, he was squeezed out.

A visit to the Golden Spike Historic Site Visitors' Center at Promontory, Utah, where it all came to a climax, can make those wild and preposterous days come alive again. There are railroad exhibits on display, including replicas of the laurel "last tie," the spike and the maul used to drive it. Because photographic cameras had been perfected in the 1860s and recorded the struggle to build the right-of-way, the photographic displays are engrossing.

Queries concerning the visitors' center can be addressed to Superintendent, Golden Spike Historic Site, P.O. Box 639, Brigham City, Utah 84302.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Celery, Parmesan Is Cookout Treat

Celery wedges Parmesan makes excellent dish for any type meal.

NEA Food Editor
By AILEEN CLAIRE

Celery is another food item common to most tables today with an ancient beginning. A native to the Near East and eastern Mediterranean area, it was known to ancient Greeks and Romans. In its early form celery was used much as an herb. Succulent and crunchy, celery is most commonly eaten raw but is a special treat when cooked.

Try celery wedges Parmesan as a change of pace taste with the next cookout (children will like it) or as a gourmet touch to impress.

CELERY WEDGES-PARMESAN

- 1 stalk Florida celery
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 2 teaspoons chopped parsley

- 1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 cup heavy cream or half and half
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Parsley garnish

Wash celery. Cut off top leaves. Cut stalk lengthwise into 6 wedges. In a large skillet bring broth to boiling point. Mix in parsley, oregano and garlic. Add celery wedges. Cover and simmer 15 minutes or until almost tender. Drain and place in a buttered 9 x 5 x 2-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese. Combine cream, butter and salt; pour over celery. Bake uncovered in a preheated 325-degree oven 20 minutes or until celery is tender. Makes 6 servings.

Dreams Help Keep Mind in Balance

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—For the last two years, I have been dreaming every night. Mostly I dream about things that happened during the day. Why is this?

A—Everybody dreams every night but, on awakening, one frequently can't remember dreaming. Dreaming about recent impressions that were forced out of your mind by various distractions is a common and normal occurrence. It seems to help keep the mind in balance and provide maximum benefit from your sleep.

Q—What causes nightmares and how can they be prevented?

A—Recent research has shown that everyone lives three separate mental lives: (1) The life of wakeful consciousness, (2) the life of normal dreaming, which may be pleasant or mildly unpleasant and is associated with rapid eye movements, and (3) the life of very deep sleep. The latter is characterized by deep, even breath-there any reason why a diet of 800 calories, consisting of lean meat and vegetables, should not be followed for a prolonged period? I am losing about five pounds a week on such a diet.

A—Extra muscle is built up by exercise rather than as a support for adipose tissue. If the exercise stops, the muscles atrophy, as do any capillaries that are no longer needed.

The daily caloric requirement for a fairly active man weighing about 150 pounds is 3,000 and for a fairly active woman weighing 125 pounds it is 2,500, so you should not continue on your low-calorie diet after you have regained your normal weight. A loss of one pound a week is usually easier to maintain than a more rapid loss.
